JAMES L. HAVER GIVEN $69,485 FROM AN ESTATE

James Laver Haver, Gettysburg R. 3, will receive $69,485.17 from his father's estate now that he has reached the age of 35, according to an account filed by the Gettysburg National Bank with the Adams County court this morning.

Haver is a son of the late Warren Laver Haver, one-time owner of The Gettysburg Times, who set up a trust fund for his two sons providing for annual payments of interest up to the amount of $2,500 yearly, until they reach the age of 35.

The account showed that James Haver had received $33,920.97 in payments from the estate since 1941.

Sebastian R. Haver, E. Water St., another son of the late Mr. Haver, is not yet 35.

The $21,200 bond of Lewis E. Bair as tax collector in Union Twp. was approved by the court.

Hear Desertion Case

At noon today the court was hearing the desertion and non-support charge brought by his wife against Dr. Stephen G. Naylor, Hanover R. D. Mrs. Naylor said her husband, Hanover osteopath, borrowed $5,000 on their farm to attend a post graduate course in Boston. He then wrote her from Boston that he was leaving her, she said.

Dr. Naylor's income tax returns for the last three years show he netted "about $6,000" a year. The return for last year showed a net of $4,348.07, which he explained was due to the expenses of the post graduate course. The prior two years showed a net of $6,422.77 and $6,665.23 respectively.

Robert J. Kreitz, Emmitsburg, was ordered to pay $10 per week for the support of his wife and child. The couple was married in November 1949, and separated in 1952.

Following support hearing the court ordered Earl B. Kuykendall, Iron Springs, to turn over his pay check regularly to his wife, directed his wife to give him expense money and told the couple to return in August to report how they are getting along.

Approve 13 Accounts

Thirteen accounts were approved by the court. The accounts and the amounts for distribution follow: Reona M. Stevens, administratrix of the estate of Harry T. Stevens, late of Tyrone Twp., none; Lloyd L. Keefer, administrator of the estate of Catherine Keefer, late of Huntington Twp., $9,499.41; Gettysburg National Bank, executor of the estate of S. F. Eck, late of Mt. Pleasant Twp., $4,087.04; Fred (Continued On Page 2)

2 CARS CRASH INTO TRUCK AT INTERSECTION

Borough police today were searching for Walter West who apparently terminated his one-day employment with the Roy Goldsmith Roofing Co. at approximately noon Saturday following an accident between a truck driven by him and two cars at the intersection of W. Middle and West Sts.

Police said West, whose address was listed by them as Gettysburg R. 3, started to work for Goldsmith Saturday morning. At noon, according to police, West was driving a Goldsmith truck south on West St.

Police said West drove into W. Middle St. where the truck was struck simultaneously by a car driven west by C. Robert Zeigler, 17, Springs Ave. and a car operated east by J. W. Stevens, 54, E. Middle St.

Trucker Leaves Scene

West, according to police, leaped out of the smashed truck and headed south on West St., running at top speed. The officer said Roy Goldsmith, owner of the roofing business, said West did not report back to him, but apparently got in his own car and left the scene, and did not report for work this morning.

This morning Officer Daniel Miller, who is investigating the accident, was in the Biglerville area searching for West on the supposition he probably returned home after the noon. At noon today Officer Miller said he had been informed West had "got out two lbs."

West had "gone to Virginia or some other southern state."

Zeigler, a senior at Gettysburg High School and a local photographer, suffered a cut leg in the crash. Damage to his car was estimated at $850. Damage to Stevens' vehicle was estimated at $300 and damage to the truck was also listed at $300.

Reds Call 1,000 Police To Quell New Riots In Poland

WARSAW (AP)—A major riot was reported today from Jaroslaw, a garrison town in southwest Poland.

More than 1,000 police and troops were called in to quell the disturbance, which apparently occurred just before the weekend.

A report in the Warsaw newspaper Spandner Mlodzy suggested it was one of the most serious of recent outbreaks against Communist state authority. It carried indications of a military mutiny. These indications were:

1. The arrival in the town of Gen. Kuropieska, a district military commander.

2. Appointment of a military investigation commission to determine responsibility for the trouble.

Starts With Arrest

The paper said the outbreak started with the arrest of a young soldier on a charge of drunkenness. It said other soldiers and "young hooligans" sided with the arrested man, went to the police station and "started a fuss." A crowd of several hundred gathered outside the police station and flung stones through the windows. The paper said: "An appeal by

Rev. Fr. Kealy said that "Christ forever maintained the simplicity of a child; He loved things that were lovely, not because they were valuable, but because they were lovely, thus showing that the spiritual relationship is more sacred than human ties."

"To make Christ within us, manifest to those about us, should be the object of our lives; unselfish work and dedication like that of Christ and Mary, will give the world the Mary-like women in Christ-like homes" the aim of National Council members.

The convention theme is "Mary-like Women in Christ-like Homes." It is dedicated to "Our Lady, Queen of Peace."

Miss Anne Culin, national director of the Province of Philadelphia and originator of the Anne Culin Course of Personality Development, addressed the luncheon in the Gettysburg High School gymnasium on "Charm Through Christ."

Love And Serve God

"In this twentieth century persons are educated, sciences are developed and we have a so-called high standard of living with automobiles, T.V. sets, automatic appliances, yet there are still wars and people asking 'Why was I born?' These unhappy people have not learned the simple, unsophisticated answer that 'God made us to know Him, to love Him and to serve Him, in order to be happy with Him' and for no other reason. It is the knowledge of and the living of this answer by each and every woman, that will bring (Continued On Page 2)

KNOUSE FOODS IS CITED FOR SAFETY RECORD

Three plants of the Knouse Foods Cooperative, Incorporated, will be honored by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company for outstanding industrial safety records established during the past two years. James F. Malone, executive vice president of the PMA insurance firm, announced today that the plant located in Peach Glen has won PMA's highest safety award, a walnut and stainless steel plaque, given to insured members who work more than one million hours without a disabling work injury. The employees of this plant earned this honor by compiling a perfect safety record from January 10, 1955 to last December 31, during which time they worked 1,159,168 hours. This represents a new record for Knouse Foods, and is still unimpaired by a disabling injury so that they are now approaching the one and a half-million mark.

The plaque will be presented by Malone to Edward J. Nowicki, production manager, who will accept on behalf of the Peach Glen employees at a noon meeting to be held in the plant cafeteria Tuesday.

3 Plants Cited

At the same time the Chambersburg and Orrtanna plants will be cited by PMA with Certificate of Merit awards, which are given to plants with records exceeding 200,000 hours of work without disability from an industrial accident. The Orrtanna plant has worked more than two years free of lost time work injuries starting November 8, 1954, which also represents a new plant record of 576,985 hours worked until December 31. The Chambersburg plant also recorded its longest disability free period, a total exposure of 742,026 hours. Nowicki will accept these two awards from Malone for the Chambersburg and Orrtanna plants.

The Knouse company operates a fourth plant at Scotland, Franklin County, which had no disabling accident during the past year, and is well on the way to a two-year perfect safety record. All four plants will also receive Honorary Certificates from the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Change of Editors: We observe in the last "Star" that it has again changed editors — the late worthy and talented proprietor, D. A. Buehler, Esq., having passed it over to Mr. John T. McIlhenny, a young man who has been for several years in that office, and imbibed all its political principles. — There will, therefore be no change in that particular. He is a young man of worth and enterprise and we welcome him into the corps editorial. The retiring Editor has our heart felt wishes for success in his new profession.

County Superintendent: On Monday last, the School Directors of Adams county met in Convention at the Court House in Gettysburg to choose a county Superintendent for three years — The present superintendent having declined a re-election. Wm. L. Campbell, Esq., was chosen and the salary increased from $300 to $400 a year.

Our worthy neighbor, Mr. Boyer, has opened a Boot and Shoe store at his residence in Chambersburg street, and is prepared to accommodate all who give him a call. See his advertisement.

The "Eagle Hotel" at present in the occupancy of Mr. J. L. Tate is now undergoing a very considerable change for the better. It has already been raised one story higher and other important improvements are in progress, giving it a very handsome appearance. There will be a beautiful veranda in front which, giving a finish to the present improvement, will render it an ornament to that section of the town.

Wm. M. Wright, Esq., son of Wm. Wright, near York Springs, in this county, has been selected as Chief Engineer of the Central Division of the Ocean Railroad, to be built across the State of Honduras, Central America. He formerly had charge of the western division of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The sheep dogs have been at work in the vicinity of Bonneauville. They killed five sheep for Philip Miller.

Is work scarce? The way to make it plenty is to put money into the new railroad Jay Cooke and J. C. Fuller, Philadelphia, proprietors of the South Mountain Railroad and Iron Company, propose to be built from Gettysburg to Hunters Run.

Henry Motter, of Abbotstown, a member of Capt. Pfeiffer's Company, 8th Reg't, receives $960 pension arrears.

The Weaver Manufacturing Company will build a factory at York with a capacity for turning out 100 organs and pianos per month. The new Railroad is now the topic of the hour. Everybody wants it and everybody should probably back it up with a liberal stock subscription.

Today's Talk

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

A name is what it makes itself, especially if it happens to be the name of a man or woman. It's that one's trade-mark. Often that name becomes international like Winston Churchill or General Eisenhower. Then again it may be a street known around the world, like Fifth Avenue, Fleet Street, or Pennsylvania Avenue.

There is always something beyond mere fame, however, that makes the name of something widely and happily named. New York's Washington Bridge pays honor to the first President and to that name which will always be beloved and revered.

There are some trade-marks that could not be bought for a million dollars. They are well known and usually stand for business integrity. Then there are those associated names that have been adopted to add prestige to a business, like Gibraltair.

Names have great influence. One of the most influential retail stores in the world is that of Marshall Field & Company. It represents to this day the ideas of its great founder. Likewise the name of Henry Ford, founder of the Ford Motor Company. If these concerns had not been built upon integrity they would not have lasted.

What's in a name? Everything. Sometimes good, sometimes bad. Our name trade-marks us for all time, and we are usually proud we have a name that was given us at birth. We try to make the name stand for something that will be a thing of pride.

The mere name of a book may be the thing that gives it its success. My first little book sold into nearly twenty editions, but I have always said it was the name that did the job. It was called "YOU CAN," now long out of print. "Thirty-nine Steps," by John Buchan, is an intriguing name for one of his fine mystery books. Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "When Are We Old?"

"TIGHT MONEY" POLICIES TO BE TARGET IN 1958

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders agreed today the Eisenhower administration's "tight money" policies will be a principal target for their effort to retain control of Congress next year. Sen. Smathers of Florida, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, said three days of party meetings indicate principal issues in 1958 will be "tight money, government economy and tax reductions."

In separate interviews, seven Democratic governors generally agreed the party can win both the 1958 congressional elections and the 1960 presidential race if they can convince the voters that higher interest rates are damaging the farmers, home buyers, small business men and consumers.

Adlai E. Stevenson, 1956 presidential nominee, said he also expects the money situation to be a potent issue. But he said he believes the Democrats will win on Republican handling of foreign policy.

He accused Republicans of placing "domestic matters above all others in their consideration of world problems." And in a television interview, he said the administration has misled the American people and lost some respect and confidence abroad. Stevenson emphasized foreign affairs while former President Truman spoke on domestic issues at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner the Democrats staged Saturday night. National Chairman Paul M. Butler said about $150,000 was netted toward erasing the party's $660,000 deficit.

Truman, Stevenson and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, in their prepared speeches, cautioned against cutting too heavily into President Eisenhower's budget, but Stevenson omitted that section of his speech along with another which said "nothing shows more copiously the feebleness of the Eisenhower administration than the budget mess."

"A wave of hysteria is sweeping the country in favor of budget cuts," he said. "When the President would defend his own budget, nobody is going to defend it for him—nobody."

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said he thinks the Eisenhower administration money policies are going to lead to unemployment.

AGREE TO HALT NICARAGUAN BORDER FIGHTS

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Nicaragua and Honduras have agreed to halt their border skirmishing. President Louis Somoza signed the cease-fire last night. It became effective upon word that the three-man junta governing Honduras also had signed.

A peace mission of the Organization of American States negotiated the agreement. It was flying to Tegucigalpa today for a formal signing ceremony there. Ricardo Arias of Panama, chairman of the five-nation OSA committee, signed with President Somoza. The agreement calls on Nicaragua and Honduras to "refrain from any activity including troops advances susceptible of aggravating the situation."

Four Days For Plan

The OAS committee was given four days to present a plan for withdrawal of troops from the disputed frontier and creation of a buffer zone.

The cease-fire halts the fighting between rival border patrols that has been going on the past five PARIS (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet and Secretary of State Dulles reaffirmed today their belief that the Suez Canal should be maintained as a genuinely international waterway.

Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who also took part in the meeting, said the French and the Americans agree that the present situation, with Egypt in full charge, is "not satisfactory."

Meeting at the Hotel Matignon, the statesmen also discussed Soviet penetration of certain Middle East countries and the work of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—An apparent $40,000 shortage in old accounts has dictated a general audit of the governmental departments of Delaware County.

Arthur C. Throne, chairman of the county commissioners, said the audit was necessitated by a Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A navy plane which vanished yesterday on a flight from Fort Lauderdale to Key West was found today far out in the Atlantic. Its two occupants were picked up by a merchant ship.

Homer In Last Of Ninth Beats Bullets 1-0; Meet Bluejays Away Tuesday

A homerun by Bob Shoup, leadoff batter in the last of the ninth inning, broke up a beautiful pitchers' duel as Albright nipped the Bullets 1-0 at Reading Saturday afternoon.

Johnny Schleicher of Gettysburg and Tom Pollock gave brilliant pitching performances as each gave up but four hits.

The Bullets left nine men stranded on the bases in the game which was played in cold, cloudy and windy conditions.

Muff Big Chance

Gettysburg's biggest threat came in the fourth when the Bullets loaded the bases with but one out.

Bream was safe on an infield error. Art Hendley singled to load the bases. Jack Bream fled to short right and Schleicher struck out to end the threat.

In the eighth and ninth innings the Bullets advanced runners to second base but could not shove either over.

Shoup, who also had two singles, lined his homerun drive to deep left field.

The Bullets (3-7-1) play at Johns Hopkins Tuesday. Albright is now 5-6 for the season.

VICENZO WINS COLONIAL AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Robert de Vicenzo, the "play for fun" golfer who wins the big checks incidentally, went home to Mexico City today to convert $5,000 first money in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament into pesos.

"It will be something like 60,000 pesos," he smiled and licked his lips as he left the PGA golf tour. The others rolled on to Hot Springs, Ark., for a tournament starting Thursday.

De Vicenzo won Colonial yesterday with the highest score ever recorded—284 for 72 holes—but his cool, devil-may-care play down the stretch as Dick Mayer of La Jolla, Calif., saw his castle of dreams felled by bogeys under the pressure, was of championship caliber.

De Vicenzo had a 2-under-par 66 in the third round and he closed out with a 70 on the final while Mayer, who had taken a 4-stroke lead to start the last 18 holes, wilted to a 75.

Mayer had 285. "This" was Ed Furgol, St. Andrews, Ill., who had 71-72 for 286, while down in a tie for 11th place at 291 was Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., who blew a 2-stroke lead he held at the halfway point with 75 and 76 on the last two rounds.

DERBY FINISH IS CLOSEST IN PAST 24 YEARS

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Something trainer Jimmy Jones learned less than a week ago and the 101st way to lose a horse race carved a niche in Kentucky Derby history for Iron Liege, the equine buck private from Calumet Farm.

Iron Liege, considered merely a good horse in Calumet's well-armed 3-year-old division of which Gen. Duke was the supreme commander, won America's most glamorous horse race Saturday in a fighting nose decision over Ralph Lowe's Texas-owned Gallant Man.

The victory was considered lucky by some today as they reviewed the running of the 1 1/4 miles on a raw, blustery day in 2:02 1-5. Willie Shoemaker, veteran jockey riding in his sixth Kentucky Derby, misjudged the finish line and stood up in Gallant Man's saddle momentarily some 70 yards from the end.

Closet Finish In 24 Years

Others, however, were of the opinion that the little Irish-bred Gallant Man never would have headed Iron Liege as Willie Hartack whipped Calumet's son of Bull Lea to victory in the tightest finish in 24 years.

Not since Brokers Tip edged Head Play in the 1933 Churchill Downs "rodeo" has there been such a close finish.

The 1933 Derby, however, was, in contrast, a roughly run race with Don Meade, up on Brokers Tip, and Herb Fisher, astride Head Play, grabbing each other's saddle cloths and whipping the other's horse through the last sixteenth of a mile.

Keeps Discovery Secret

"I thought he had a terrific chance against Bold Ruler even with Gen. Duke unable to start because of his injured front foot," said Jones. "But I discovered something in last Tuesday's Derby Trial that may have been the difference between victory and defeat."

Iron Liege was far back in the trial, won by Clifford Lussky's Federal Hill with Gen. Duke second. And Jones was far from happy.

Jimmy, who was saddling his first Derby winner to run Calumet's total to six, declined to say what he learned about Iron Liege. "We managed to cover it up well Saturday," Jones added. "And I prefer not to disclose it."

Hartack Replaces Erb

But it was believed Jones decided that Iron Liege could not be raced as Dave Erb had done in previous races. With Hartack replacing Erb in the saddle after Gen. Duke was withdrawn, Iron Liege ran close to Federal Hill's pace from the start. He never was more than three lengths back. He disposed of Federal Hill and Bold Ruler, the 6-5 favorite who wound up fourth, at the top of the stretch and staved off Gallant Man's stirring finish.

Round Table, owned by the T. M. Kerr family of Oklahoma City, was third and Federal Hill fifth. Shoemaker admitted his mistake when called before the stewards. "I've always heard there are 100 ways of losing a horse race," said trainer Johnny Nerud of Scottsbluff, Neb. "Now I know there are 101."

Mount Tops W. And M. 15-14 On Shuck's Hit In Ninth; Host Loyola Tuesday For 2

A pair of runs in the last of the ninth gave the Mt. St. Mary's College baseball team (7-6) a 15-14 victory over William and Mary, Norfolk Division, in a free-scoring contest Saturday afternoon at Emmitsburg.

Denny Shuck, Mount shortstop, singled with the bases loaded in the last of the ninth to drive in the winning run, his fifth r.b.i. of the game.

The Mounts trailed 14-13 going in the last frame. Successive singles by Charley Costenbader, Jack Gunn and Joe Starke loaded the sacks. Larry Wheeler, a pinchhitter, walked to force home the tying run before Shuck singled with two out to send Gunn home with the winning tally.

Today the Mount meets Catholic University at Washington, D. C., and hosts Loyola of Baltimore in a doubleheader at Emmitsburg Tuesday afternoon.

Redlegs Take Pair
Cincinnati put together the season's longest winning streak in either league, beating Pittsburgh 6-2 and 7-3 for seven in a row.

Elsewhere in the NL, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Philadelphia twice 8-2 and 4-0 with Ernie Johnson, who pitched five runs, the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs split, the Cubs winning 8-3 in 10, then losing 6-2.

Detroit, another AL "contender," made it four in a row with a 3-1 decision over Baltimore. Boston, after losing four, took two from Cleveland 5-1 and 4-3 but lost Ted Williams with a bruised elbow. Kansas City defeated Washington 7-2.

Bobby's Second Complete One
Shantz collected his second complete game, a seven - hitter in the opener at Chicago, striking out six and rolling home after Mickey Mantle's third homer, with one on, helped a three-run fourth against loser Billy Pierce.

In the nightcap, Kucks had a three-hitter and the Yanks stuck to the fourth-inning script, with Elston Howard's two-run triple and an RBI single by Yogi Berra.

Mantle pulled a groin muscle in the second game, but it wasn't thought serious.

The Redlegs also were touched by injury, with left fielder Frank Robinson forced out of the second game after crashing a wall. It was Robinson's three-run homer that bagged the opener for Brooks Lawrence. Don Gross went all the way for the nightcap decision, helped by Gus Bell's second home run.

Ennis batted in three and Stan Musial two as the Cards scored four in the sixth and three in the seventh to win the opener after being held to three hits by Curt Simmons for five frames. Lloyd Merritt, gaining his first decision in the majors, shut out the Phils on three hits in five relief innings. Sam Jones then four-hit the Phils for the sweep, with Ennis singles beating Harvey Haddix.

Jensen Homers
The Cubs blew a 3-1 lead in the ninth inning of the opener, then came up with five in the 10th. In the second game, the Giants junked their five-game slump with the help of errors, walks and Daryl Spencer's two-run homer.

Williams was struck on the forearm by one of reliever Stan Pita's pitches at Cleveland 4-3. The Red Sox scored four unearned runs in the first inning to beat Bob Lemon. Jackie Jensen homered for two and Gene Stephens, a subbing for Williams, doubled home the clincher in the second game to beat Mike Garcia.

Harvey Kuenn, who homered in the first, singled to open the seventh as the Tigers broke a 1-1 tie with Charlie Maxwell's two-run single for Frank Lar's second victory.

Harry Simpson drove in four runs and the A's pulled four doubleplays to give Tom Morgan a 2 - 2 record with a 10-hitter against the Nats.

Sen. McCarthy Took Self Less Seriously In Private Than Public

Editor's Note—This is the second of three articles from the recollections of a newsman who knew the late Sen. McCarthy well and who covered many of his activities.

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe McCarthy's belly shook with laughter as he told the story.

There he was out in La Jolla, Calif., getting a little rest, and came this telegram signed by a girl he'd met. Said she was coming to see him and wanted to get a hotel reservation for herself and her mother.

"Well, I had the hell of a time," Joe chuckled. "The hotel was full and the manager finally had to throw somebody out to make room. Then the girl didn't show, and I got suspicious. Sure enough, it was a gag. The telegram was sent by that so-and-so, Roy Cohn."

Didn't Scorn Hero Role

This was Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy talking at a time when he and his top aide, Roy M. Cohn, were figures of burning controversy throughout the nation and much of the world.

Joe, the bulky Irishman, and Roy, the intense Jewish lad from New York, were pictured as saviors of their country from communism, on the one hand, and as villains out to destroy American freedom on the other.

They didn't scorn the hero role — in public, especially.

But a lot of their time was spent in jollity that would have amazed both their admirers and their detractors. Oddly, to those learning about it for the first time, Joe and Roy and their friends were jokers, regular live-it-up boys, when they got the chance.

Different Pictures

"The Rover boys — armed with machine guns," was the way one unfriendly newspaperman put it.

People who saw him only on television formed an image of McCarthy. As a grim prosecutor sometimes-remember his "ummm-hmm," with its nasal rising inflection and its "don't-think-you're-kidding-me-bub" ring? Then again he was the badgered leader at bay, growling and snarling at his tormentors.

That was the public Joe McCarthy — not the relaxed host who would hoist his feet to a footstool, lean back in his easy chair and say:

"Drinks in the kitchen, boys. Everybody mixes his own in this house."

Bore Grudges Gladly

There was the night in 1954, a few hours after the Senate had condemned two aspects of McCarthy's conduct. A couple of reporters dropped in and found McCarthy rumbling with laughter at a joke cracked by his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams.

"Did you hear that?" McCarthy grinned. "Eddie says Eisenhower has commuted my sentence to life imprisonment."

McCarthy took his rap lightly, from every outward appearance. But he also was a man who bore grudges gladly.

Fond Of Kids

One day, told that a columnist enemy of his was hospitalized with a painful ailment, McCarthy registered unadulterated glee. "Good," he gloated. "Nothing is too bad for that so-and-so. I hope it kills him."

His actual word wasn't so-and-so, of course. Joe's language had an out-behind-the-barn flavor, in private and sometimes on the Senate floor. His wife, Jean, tried to shush him but with scant success.

Joe was fond of kids. He'd pass up an influential politician any time if a youngster was trying to get his attention.

Liked To Torment People

He was a boy himself in some ways. He collected things like postcards offering rewards for outlaws of the old West.

And, like a teasing child, he loved to torment people — sometimes in fun, sometimes with an undertone of unboylike grimness.

For days in the course of the Senate hearings on his fight with Pentagon officials McCarthy made it a point to produce, with an air of releasing a trump card, a piece of paper from his pocket and demand permission to read it.

He did this for the sole purpose of bedeviling Sen. Stuart W. Symington of Missouri, who lived in constant expectation that McCarthy was about to tell the nation-reading from the paper—that Symington had a police record.

Had Symington Worried

Actually, the paper might be blank or might be a reminder to call his wife.

But Joe knew that Symington, years ago, was involved in a boyish escapade in which a car was borrowed without the owner's permission. Symington knew that McCarthy knew, and expected the Wisconsin senator at any time to produce "evidence" of a "criminal record" and blow it up into something heinous.

Actually, McCarthy never did mention the borrowed car. But lest he should, Symington had armed himself with a statement from the car's owner absolving the Missouri senator of any wrongful intent.

McCarthy took himself far less seriously in private than he did when the cameras were on him.

Hearty Appetites, Self-Pity

He was a man of hearty appetites. He loved steak, lots of it. He put away a powerful amount of whisky at times, but could ration himself or quit entirely when convinced he should.

He had his moments of self-

CIVIL RIGHTS SOFT PEALED BY DEMOCRATS

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats soft pedaled the controversial civil rights issue today to concentrate their attack on monetary and other policies of the Eisenhower administration.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said the Republicans had inaugurated "the greatest manipulation of interest rates and credit the world has ever seen."

Patman, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said this in remarks prepared for a round table discussion with Democratic governors.

Half-Hearted Attempt

In another talk prepared for the same meeting, Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said the Republicans were giving only "grudging recognition" to the problem presented in 19 major areas where he said unemployment is above 5 per cent, despite general national prosperity.

He said the Eisenhower administration has made only "an inadequate, half-hearted attempt" to combat chronic unemployment.

A scattering of Democratic governors gathered for a party conference preceding a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner here tonight. Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 and 1956 presidential nominee, and former President Truman were scheduled as feature speakers.

Hope For $150,000

Democratic officials hope to raise upwards of $150,000 from the dinner, with the proceeds to be applied to reducing the party's deficit. Party treasurer Matthew Mc-pity. He'd come home from a long speaking tour, for instance, and wonder aloud as he sank into a chair if he was giving too much of himself in what he called his "fight for America."

"It's making an old man of me," he would complain. But five minutes later a joke would occur to him and he'd be the old McCarthy, full of his particular variety of fun.

Closely reported Friday the deficit has jumped to $660,000. He said state organizations have not been meeting their financial quotas.

The party's national committee adopted in sessions yesterday a set of rules under which its controversial advisory council — of which Stevenson and Truman are members — will be free to make statements of party policy.

Southern committee members, who resent the council's previous endorsement of civil rights legislation, sought unsuccessfully to strip the council of this power. But the national committee voted down 65-5 a proposal by Denmark Groover Jr., a Georgia member, to make the council's statements subject to review by the full committee.

National Chairman Paul M. Butler said this vote was largely on sectional lines, with Connecticut, Delaware and Missouri members joining Southerners in backing Groover's proposal. A Texas member voted against the proposal, he said.

PRO-EGYPTIAN LEFTISTS WIN IN SYRIA VOTE

By WEBB MCKINLEY
DAMASCUS (AP)—Syria's pro-Egyptian leftists have won three important parliamentary by-elections, downing a new anti-Communist coalition. The government forces lost a fourth contest, but it involved only local issues.

The government-backed candidates scored victories in weekend elections marked by a tight turnout of voters and charges of political foul play. All three seats in the 142-member Parliament previously were held by right-wingers now in jail on charges of trying to topple the government of President Shukri Kuwaty.

In Damascus, victory went to handsome, 32-year-old Riad el Maliki, who stumped on a platform of all-out support for Egypt and condemnation of the Eisenhower Doctrine. El Maliki polled 929 votes to 18,457 for right-winger Mustafa Sibai, leader of the Moslem Brotherhood in Syria and Jordan.

Concede Defeat
Supporters of rightist publisher said Tellaway conceded defeat by leftist Jamal Kalaleeb in Homs, central Syria.

In Suweida, leftist Abou Asali defeated rightist Sitan Nassr 3,671-160.

The fourth contest was decided Saturday in the south Syrian tribal district of Houran, where Sheikh Zaar el Jumaa was elected. This was the first time the rightist Moslem Brotherhood, People's party and other anti-Communist groups merged into a national front. However, observers believed a victory for the right would have had little effect on Syria's relations with the West. The rightists came out strongly for Arab nationalism, opposed ties with the West and campaigned against the Eisenhower Doctrine.

U. S. An Issue
The leftists made the United States particularly a campaign issue. Two left-wing papers claimed U. S. agents were buying votes for the right with "brief cases stuffed with dollar bills."

Sibai protested formally to President Shukri Kuwaty that government police and agents had stood over ballot boxes in violation of election law. He also asserted that many voters were given faulty ballots which were thrown out by election officials.

Old City Hall May
Defy The Wreckers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—No matter how much Mayor Richardson Dilworth and many other Philadelphians want to see City Hall torn down and replaced by something more esthetic in their eyes, maybe it simply can't be done. The reason: The solid old pile of a building sprawling over an entire block, defies the wreckers.

The mayor reluctantly gave ground Friday, telling members of the City Council that he'll probably have to go along with the findings of his special commission on public buildings. The commission, he said, is now all but convinced that the cost of razing City Hall—the heart's desire of so many—would be prohibitive. Whatever eventually is decided, the city government must have more space, and the way to get it, as recommended at the moment, is to put up a new annex in adjoining Rebyrn Plaza, an area which is being developed along the lines of New York's Rockefeller Center.

BROILER WEEK TO BE OBSERVED 2 TIMES HERE

Adams County will have a double observance of Pennsylvania Broiler Week. It was learned today.

Today through May 11 is "Broiler Week," and the Adams County Poultry Federation was considering a big barbecue as its share of the celebration.

But with plans for the Apple Blossom Tour including a chicken barbecue at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, the poultrymen decided to promote that affair as an observance by the county of poultry week.

Planned For June
But, enjoying a good chicken barbecue themselves, they also have decided that the county also might enjoy another chicken barbecue and they plan to hold their own sometime in June. They also hope that the Senior Extension Club and other groups that stage chicken barbecues during the summer and fall will also repeat their last year's performance.

According to an estimate of the State Department of Agriculture, backyard and large area chicken barbecues this week will provide close to a million servings of half a barbecued bird each throughout the state during the outdoor picnic season this year.

The season is to be launched during the week of May 4 through 11 in a statewide series of demonstration chicken barbecues arranged by county poultry associations affiliated with the State Poultry Federation.

Set Record Last Year
With the increasing popularity of family outdoor barbecues and large chicken broiler festivals by churches, service clubs, civic, fraternal and similar organizations, officials believe last year's estimate of half a million servings can be doubled. Pennsylvania broiler production last year was a record 37.3 million birds.

Walter S. Shearer, Sinking Spring, Berks County, is chairman of the Poultry Federation's public relations committee in charge of Pennsylvania Broiler Week arrangements. He announced feature events during the period as follows:

City and county officials of Berks County will participate in a special broiler chicken barbecue near Reading today.

Many Celebrations
A similar event will be held for Lancaster City and County officials

Battle Looms Over Sen. McCarthy's Seat

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin Democrats are determined to fight any effort to give the state's GOP governor special power to appoint a U. S. senator to complete the term of the late Joseph R. McCarthy.

This was announced by State Democratic Chairman Philo Nash after a meeting of Democratic leaders.

There has been no announcement that the Republican majority in the Legislature will attempt to give the governor such power, now denied him under Wisconsin law, which says a special election may be called. Such a move has been suggested.

6TH FLEET IS SHIFTED AGAIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced Friday that the major fighting ships of the 6th Fleet are moving out of the eastern Mediterranean where they were rushed during the Jordan crisis last week.

It said they are returning to the central Mediterranean area to take part in previously scheduled North Atlantic Treaty Organization naval exercises.

Amphibious elements of the fleet, including a reinforced Marine Corps battalion of 1,800 men, will remain in the eastern Mediterranean with a number of escorting ships.

The Lebanon County Poultry Association sponsored a parade in Lebanon Friday evening and today is staging a big barbecue featuring "take home" broiler halves. The parade featured floats and the appearance of Miss Elizabeth Erb, State Poultry Queen.

Similar functions are being planned for Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Altoona and other cities.

Selection of winners and sales of birds in the 1957 Chicken-of-Tomorrow broiler contest will take place during Broiler Week. Regional winners will be selected on Monday, state champions are to be chosen at the Farm Show Building in Harrisburg on Tuesday and regional auction sales are set for Wednesday.

FINE WEATHER FORECAST FOR MOST OF NATION

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pleasant spring weather, with clear skies and rising temperatures, was the outlook for most of the nation today.

There were only a few wet spots during the night. The most widespread precipitation was in the far Northwest, from western Montana and Idaho westward to the Pacific Coast. However, rain fall was light.

Light showers fell in eastern Wyoming and western sections of South Dakota and Nebraska. Showers also sprinkled Miami and Glenwood, N. M., and in scattered areas along the California coast.

The flood situation in Texas appeared easing, with most rivers receding and no heavy rainfall indicated. However, in Louisiana, the surging Red River forced hundreds of persons from their homes and flooded thousands of acres of land.

The big river was near flood levels along a 60-mile stretch as the crest swirled past Shreveport and threatened Powhatan and Clarence, between 50 and 60 miles south of Shreveport.

THREE GUNMEN STEAL $3,000

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—An innkeeper and his wife were held up at their home near here yesterday by three men who took a cash box containing an estimated $3,000 and escaped in an automobile, eluding state police roadblocks.

Victims of the robbery were Ernest Zerlando, 55, of Media R.D., and his wife, Emma, 50. They said the three men were lying in wait for them when they arrived home after closing their tavern, the Log Cabin Inn on the Baltimore Pike, three miles west of here. The Zerlandos' house is a short distance from the tavern.

Zerlando said the men, wearing dark hoods to conceal their identities, attacked him and beat him unconscious as he was opening the garage doors. One of the men then went into the house after Mrs. Zerlando, who had gone ahead with the cash box while her husband went to put the car away.

She said the man grabbed the cash box, ripped out a telephone and then returned to the others. The three jumped into an automobile and fled, she said. Mrs. Zerlando called police from an upstairs phone. Roadblocks were set up in the area until late morning. Zerlando was taken to Crozer Hospital in Chester for treatment.

FIVE TO FACE CONSPIRACY OR MACING COUNTS

PITTSBURGH (P) — Did five former state officials force state employees to donate money to political campaign funds?

That will be the main question raised in court today when the ex-officials go on trial on charges of conspiracy and macing.

The defendants, all of whom served during the administration of former Republican Gov. John S. Fine, are:

Frederick P. Hare, former administrative assistant to Fine; Artemas C. Leslie, former state insurance commissioner; George A. Nally, former comptroller of the state revenue dept.; Frederick M. Campbell, an investigator in the Pittsburgh office of the state insurance dept.; and George L. Speed, former head of the Pittsburgh Inheritance Tax Bureau office.

4 Face Conspiracy Charge Speed is charged with macing. The other four are charged with conspiracy.

They are among 15 persons who were indicted in a 1954 grand jury probe sparked by James F. Malone, who at that time was Republican district attorney of Allegheny County.

The indictments charge that the defendants threatened state workers with loss of their jobs unless they contributed one per cent of their yearly pay to the 1954 Republican primary campaign fund. Handling the case for the state is Asst. Dist. Atty. Sidney A. Sannes of Allegheny County.

Defense attorneys are Roy T. Clunk and Edward V. Buckley.

Reaches 100 But Doesn't Know How

PHILADELPHIA (P) — A Philadelphia woman celebrated her 100th birthday Saturday with the comment "I don't know how I ever got this way."

But members of the family of Mrs. Emma Theiss Smith say that at least some of the credit for so long a life must go to her habit of moderation in all things, refusal to worry, and liking for a quiet mode of living.

Born in the Frankford area of the city, Mrs. Smith has never been far from home; she has no regrets about that. She was married at 18, widowed about 50 years ago, and went to work in hosiery mills until she was 70. She lives with her only son, Irving T. Smith, who says she remains fairly active. Family and friends planned a tranquil birthday observance, in deference to Mrs. Smith's tastes.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (P) — A liver disease killed Sen. McCarthy but what no medical report will say or show is whether his spirit was broken before he died. He showed every sign of it.

He died 29 months to the day after his fellow senators on Dec. 2, 1954, condemned him for his conduct. And in that time McCarthy, who had made himself a blazing figure, retreated more and more into silence and obscurity.

By the time of his death he had become almost a nobody in the news and in the Senate, both of which he had dominated for four years. On the day of his condemnation this writer wrote:

No Excuse For Roughness "The censure charges against him, summed up, come to this: the Senate has standards but he didn't live up to them; and there is no excuse for being as rough as he was toward the Senate itself and toward individuals."

There is an old Greek theory to explain the tragedy of a man's life: that it is due to a defect in character he can never overcome and which inevitably leads him to his doom.

In McCarthy's case his enemies might say it was arrogance, or ruthlessness, or a desperate thirst for power, or even "cruelty," which was the word used against him by Joseph N. Welch, his lawyer antagonist in the Army-McCarthy hearings.

But one thing was indisputable: in the four years of what he called his search for Communists, he showed an amazing disregard for other people.

A Man Obsessed He seemed incapable of changing that even when he was in his own greatest peril — as he was when the Senate was considering censure charges against him—and died at 18, widowed about 50 years ago, and went to work in hosiery mills until she was 70. She lives with her only son, Irving T. Smith, who says she remains fairly active. Family and friends planned a tranquil birthday observance, in deference to Mrs. Smith's tastes.

He had become like a man obsessed with the word he had hurled at so many people — "Communist." He finally used it obliquely — as he so often did against others — against the Senate itself. It was his greatest mistake.

He was condemned because he had "abused" the Senate and, among other things, had said the committee which was investigating the censure charges had "imitated Communist methods" and its members were "attorneys in fact" for the Communist party.

He was a discredited senator whose following melted away.

When he did enter the Senate chamber these last two years — he was never a man for spending much time there — he seemed more and more like a ghost out of American history, a man whose story had been finished in his own lifetime.

WASHINGTON (P) — President Eisenhower's Cabinet isn't very old—in average age—but some of his key men are away up there and, like Eisenhower, will be over 70 if they stick around to the end of his administration in 1961. Eisenhower himself is 66. Three Cabinet members are older: Secretary of State Dulles, 69; Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, 67; and Secretary of Defense Wilson, also 66 but three months older than the President.

Average age of the 10 Cabinet members: 59. Five of them are over 60, five under. If the 10 stay around until 1961, all but two will then be over 60, with an average of 63½. Three — Dulles, Humphrey, Wilson — will be over 70.

Two May Leave But Humphrey and Wilson are rumored just about ready to call it quits and go back to civilian life. Dulles' liking for his job seems undiminished, although he was operated on for an intestinal cancer six months ago.

The departure of these three would enable Eisenhower to bring younger men into his Cabinet. But this wouldn't mean a great deal—in the sense that younger men would be running things for the Republicans as Eisenhower's term ends.

Not one of those now in the Cabinet has been seriously mentioned as a likely candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960. Vice President Nixon seems to have the inside track on that.

And if he won the election he almost certainly — in the tradition of presidents — would pick his own Cabinet.

MIXED REACTIONS — Actor Spencer Tracy and actress Deborah Kerr register different emotions during a party they both were attending at a Hollywood night club.

Several Under 60

Except for Dulles, Humphrey and Wilson, only two other Cabinet members are over 60. They are Secretary of Commerce Weeks, 63, and Marion B. Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare, also 63.

All the rest are under 60: Postmaster General Summerfield, 58;

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, 57; Secretary of Labor Mitchell, 56; Atty. Gen. Brownell, 53; and Secretary of the Interior Seaton, 47.

Humphrey has not denied reports that he intends to get out in the near future. Nor has Wilson.

Both men put in a lot of time working on the budget Eisenhower asked Congress to approve for

FALL OF ITALY'S GOVERNMENT IS SEEN 'IMMINENT'

ROME (P) — The fall of Italy's three-year-old government and new elections appeared imminent today as anti-Communist Social Democrats pushed plans to quit the coalition.

The shakeup was not believed likely to affect Italy's pro-Western foreign policies, however. The purely domestic, Italy's non-Communist political parties agree on the need for continued membership in NATO and continued cooperation with the United States and free Europe.

The crisis arose last night. Delegates from the party's majority center bloc voted unanimously to demand a walkout when the full party congress meets next month. Approval by the full congress appeared certain.

Although the government of next year, Wilson's interest in it, of course, was in getting Congress to vote the money he thinks the Defense Department needs.

Humphrey has an even wider interest: getting money for his own Treasury Department and for the government in general since, as the government's chief money man, the amount of money spent is of primary concern to him.

Both Humphrey and Wilson may leave after Congress finishes voting the money bills, which won't be until near quitting time for the lawmakers, perhaps next July.

Couple Chased By Mother Raccoon

PITTSBURGH (P) — Mr. and Mrs. William Adams can't get into their bedroom because their pet raccoon Niecey is so mean.

Adams said Niecey was a fine pet until the mating season last February.

"We noticed about then that Niecey started to get mean," he said.

Last weekend Niecey gave birth to some baby raccoons in a dresser drawer in the Adamses' bedroom. She spat and raged at Mr. and Mrs. Adams until they left the bedroom.

"We decided to sleep in the living room," Adams said.

Asked how his wife plans getting rid of the babies, he replied: "She isn't. She's going to keep them all."

Christian Democrat Premier Antonio Segni had several weeks' grace, there was speculation the Cabinet might resign much sooner.

Withdrawal of the Social Democrats would leave Segni with only the support of his own Christian Democrats and the small Liberal party, about 275 of the 590 members in the Chamber of Deputies. A fourth member of the coalition, the Republicans, quit two months ago, contending they wanted a free hand.

Vice Premier Giuseppe Saragat, leader of the Social Democrats, called for the walkout last night at a mass meeting of the party's center bloc. The usually cautious Saragat charged the government was no longer able to carry on its job, that the coalition "no longer has enough support to bring about any efficient reform action."

'SAD SAM' STUCK 90,000 FT. IN AIR

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — Scientific equipment got fouled up and "Sad Sam," a dummy who was supposed to have parachuted from 90,000 feet, was still suspended today from a huge balloon drifting lazily in the sky.

The 275-foot plastic bag was last seen late yesterday over Red Wing, Minn., about 55 miles south of its launching site in New Brighton, a Minneapolis suburb.

Technicians hoped the balloon would come down before long, that someone would spot it and report the find promptly.

It was sent aloft at dawn yesterday by General Mills, Inc., to test the gondola to be used in this summer's manned Air Force "high dive" bailout project over New Mexico.

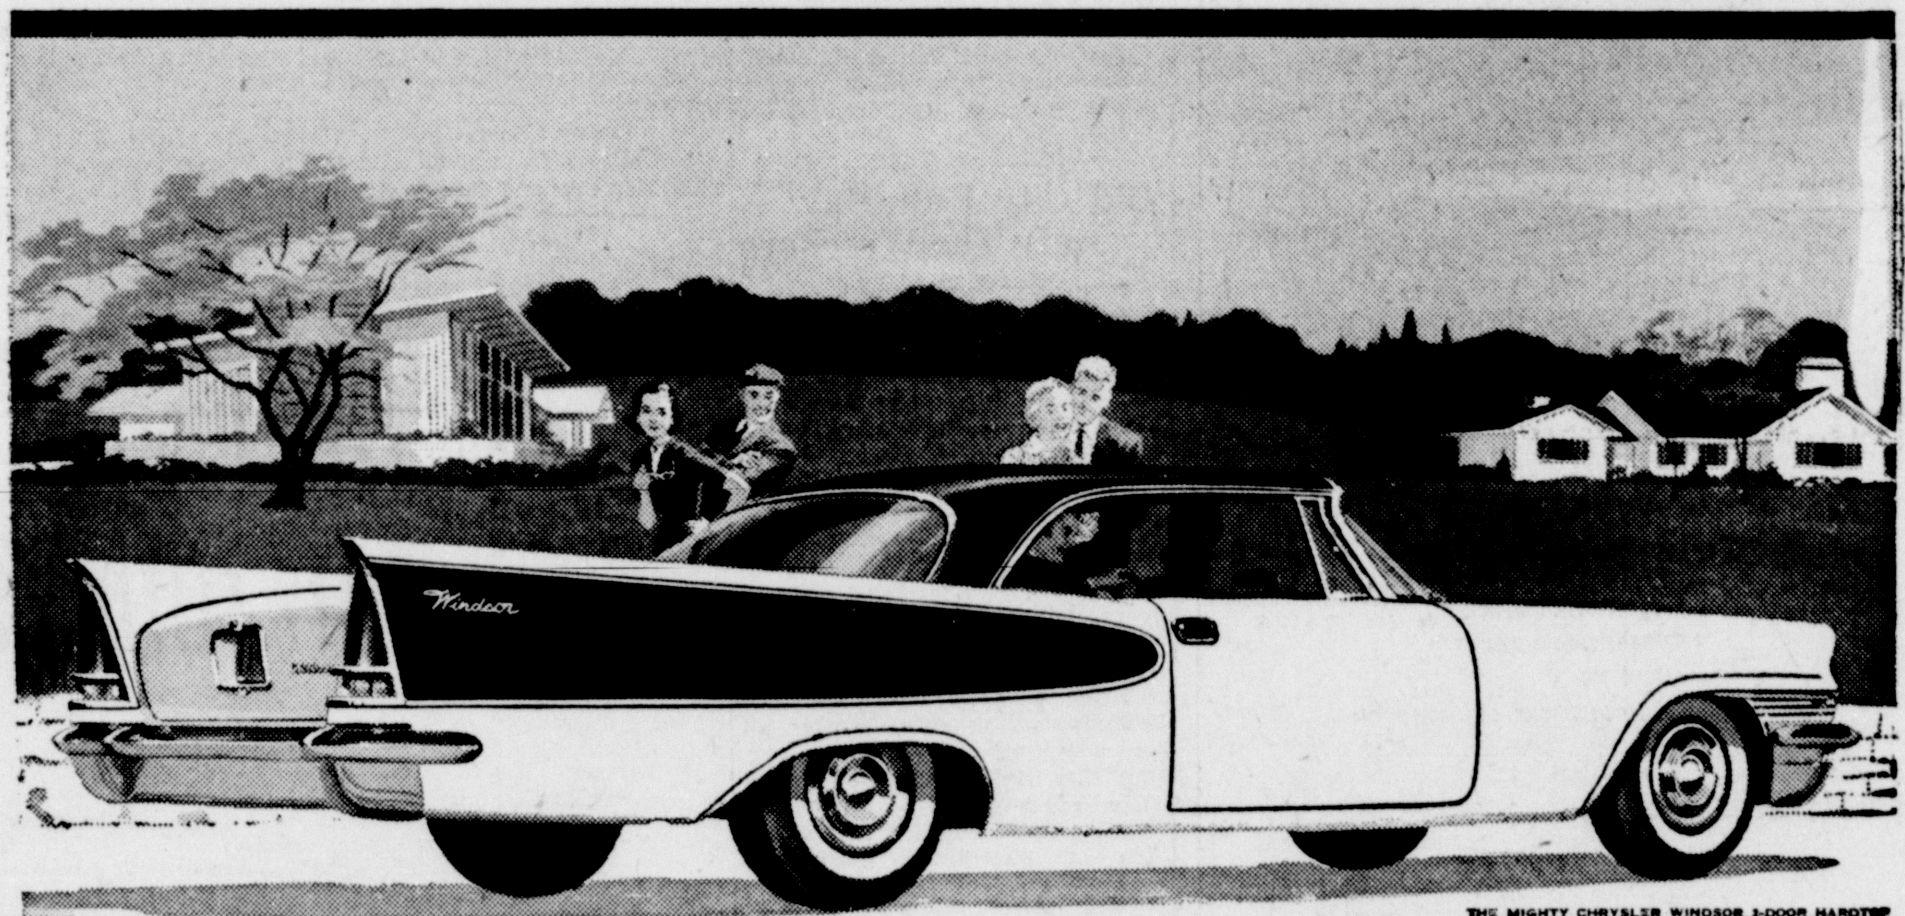

The balloon launching went smoothly. The balloon climbed to 90,000 feet without a hitch.

But trouble developed in two systems designed to drop the dummy and the valuable gondola. Neither remote control nor an automatic timeclock device would dislodge Sad Sam.

Georgia Tech's 1956-1957 basketball team broke nine team and 19 individual school records.
